ACORD Honors NxTech for Outstanding Accomplishment

Cincinnati, Ohio (June 2, 2006) – NxTech, Incorporated, a leading provider of real-time interfaces, system integration, data management and interactive web development, received the AL3-XML Data Transformation Award at the 14th Annual ACORD Awards ceremony held during the ACORD LOMA Systems Forum in Las Vegas.

ACORD recognized NxTech's commitment and leadership in the way business is processed utilizing ACORD standards. NxTech firmly believes the key to successful implementations is industry standards and those standards represent the centerpiece of NxTech ConneXt.

"NxTech understands the value of standards and promotes the use of standards wherever possible. The award presented to us by ACORD is an honor and a testament of how using standards, industry knowledge, and NxTech's solutions for implementations guarantees that carriers and agents reach their goals. NxTech looks forward to even more success with ACORD and our carrier customers in the coming year. At NxTech we realize that being part of an industry means you always need to promote sound, well designed solutions," says Bill Tedrick, CEO at NxTech.

"NxTech recognizes the benefits that can be derived through the use of industry standards and associated efficiencies that can be gained by agencies, carriers and others in the insurance value chain. By receiving the AL3-XML Data Transformation Award they demonstrated their commitment to the use of ACORD insurance standards" says Ron Dudley, Vice President at ACORD.
